

66. The clerk of the market shall be allowed a reasonable compensation for his services, not exceeding fifty dollars a year, to be fixed by the said commissioners and levied as other town charges.

67. The market days in Cambridge shall be Tuesdays and Saturdays, subject, however, to be changed by the said commissioners, and all provisions brought to said town for sale shall be taken to the market house and there sold or offered for sale from any time in the morning until twelve o'clock at noon; but fish or oysters, or beef by the quarter or larger quantity, pork by the hog, any kind of grain, flour or bread, butter in firkins or other vessels exceeding twenty pounds net weight, cheese or beef or pork in barrels or larger casks, live cattle, sheep and hogs brought to said town may be sold anywhere therein.

68. If any free inhabitant of said town shall buy any article of provisions of any person bringing or having brought to the said town any provisions for sale, (except the articles excepted in the preceding section,) either upon market days or upon any other day during market hours, at any other place than the market house, he shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

69. If any person shall sell to any free inhabitant of said town, or to any slave of such inhabitant, any article of provision except as aforesaid, which such person may be bringing or may have brought or sent to said town, or within two miles thereof, for sale, either upon the stated market days or on any other days during market hours, he shall forfeit the sum of two dollars and fifty cents.

70. If any person shall butcher any cattle, sheep or hogs in or near the said market house, he shall forfeit the sum of two dollars and fifty cents.

71. If any person shall put any mare, horse or gelding into or under the said market house, he shall forfeit the sum of seventy-five cents.

72. No person shall keep or raise any geese or swine within the limits of said town, except in pens or enclosures, and if any geese or swine be found going at large therein, the same shall be forfeited for the benefit of said town, and the bailiff shall seize, impound and sell the same at public sale, and the money arising
